The Zealous Conservator

A Life of Charles Lane Poole

John Dargavel

THE ZEALOUS CONSERVATOR

by John Dargavel

A fascinating biography of a passionate pioneer of Australian conservation, hailed in 1981 by Western Australian Premier Sir Charles Court as the 'founder of modern forestry'.

Charles Edward Lane Poole is presented as a man so captured by the ideals of forestry, science and rational land use that he followed their dictates across the world, regardless of personal consequences or political reality.

The story follows his life, studies and work in England, Ireland, France, South Africa, Sierra Leone, Western Australia, Papua and New Guinea, Canberra and Sydney.
